John G. Kennedy

Dies At His Farm Near Verona After a Long Illness

John G. Kennedy, age 83, died at his farm near Verona last Thursday after a long illness incident to old age. He was one of the best citizens in this section and had a host of friends who mourn his death. He was born in Gallatin county near the Concord church and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy, long since deceased. He was a faithful member of the Lebanon Presbyterian church in Grant county for over sixty years and a Mason for over fifty years. He is survived by his wife, and three daughters viz: Mrs. J. F. McCormick, of Verona, Mrs. James A. Huey of Union, and Mrs. Daniel Young of Erlanger, Ky. His funeral took place from the New Bethel Baptist church, Verona, Sunday, Rev. Spears, pastor of the New Bethel Presbyterian church preached an appropriate funeral discourse, after which the Masonic order took charge of the funeral and rendered their beautiful burial service. A very large number were in attendance to pay the last and tribute of respect to this good man. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Benson, Miss Burdette Fagan, Florien Lusby, with Mrs. Wilford Rice at the piano, all of Walton, rendered beautiful sacred music. The remains were buried in the New Bethel cemetery. Undertaker C. Scott Chambers of Walton had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Don't forget the Farmers Picnic.

Bridge Work

Held Up For Lack of Permission To Excavate On Southern Railroad Property.

Sub-Contractor O. T. Moore of Ft. Thomas, Ky., who has the contract for the building of the concrete bridge that is to span the Southern Railroad just south of Walton, has been held up on his work on account of no provision being made on the property of the railroad road. Work was begun this week but was stopped for the above reason. Contractor Moore went to Lexington Monday to have the State Highway Commission obtain the permission to go ahead with the work. All material—or enough to begin work is on the ground ready to go ahead.

Don't Forget Farmers Picnic

Don't forget the Boone County Farmers' Picnic, Saturday, July 23rd at the Florence Fair Grounds, at Florence, Ky. A fine brass band will be in attendance and an amusing and interesting program has been arranged. Among the other features, the farmers will have the opportunity of meeting Mr. James C. Stone, President of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association. Mr. Stone is one of the best business men in Kentucky, and no one of an observing mind would fail to see in him a man of dynamic characteristics, a man whom the tobacco growers of Kentucky are fortunate indeed in securing his services. Everyone should take their basket lunches with them and enjoy the day mingling with friends and acquaintances.

REPAIRING NEED MORE STREET

The town council of Walton is having a road project made at the intersection of the Dixie Highway and the main street. The space being surfaced is 20 x 33 ft. It is a much needed improvement and the town council is to be commended for their progressive spirit shown.

Entertained Missionary Society.

Last Thursday the Misses Naumeister of the Dixie Highway, about two miles south of Walton, entertained the Christian Church Missionary Society with an all-day meeting at their hospitable home. All enjoyed a delightful day.

Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. J. C. Bedinger of North Main street, entertained the Missionary Society of Hughes Chapel. Nice refreshments were served and all spent a most pleasant day with the hostess.

Hansford Wilson of New York City, W. C. Harris and wife and Mrs. Anna Stephens of Independence were the guests of Mrs. Robert Stevens of High Street, Tuesday.

The Road Assured

From Kenton County Line On Nicholson Pike To The Dixie Highway

County Judge N. E. Riddell Using His Best Efforts to Have the Boone End Finished.

Wednesday afternoon, County Judge N. E. Riddell of Burlington, called at the Advertiser office and informed us that he had recently returned from Frankfort, Ky., where he went to see the State Highway Commission in the interest of the Boone county extension of the Walton-Nicholson pike to the Dixie Highway.

The Commission expressed themselves as favorable to a plan to connect the termination of the Kenton county with the Boone county extension to the Dixie Highway, but, expressed themselves as opposed to railroad crossings. One proposition was to bring the proposed highway over the overhead bridge near the old tollgate and then have it follow between the Southern and L. & N. Railroads, terminating on the present Dixie Highway in front of the residence of Rev. R. F. DeMolay, just south of the L. & N. Railroad crossing, thus eliminating all railroad crossings. Another proposition has been made to the commission to run the highway on a bee line from the Walton and Nicholson pike to the Dixie Highway, which will necessitate another bridge over the L. & N. Railroad. How over the commission assured Judge Riddell his best efforts.

Florence and Gallatin Road

Nearly all the right-of-way for the Florence, Union, Beaver Lake Gallatin county line highway has been secured with the exception of a few small places and Judge Riddell says these right-of-ways will be secured. This is the highway that will connect Louisville and Covington and will be a great boon to the citizens of Western Boone and Upper Gallatin county, where the roads are in a deplorable condition.

A NEW FORD IN TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Ford of Needmore street were presented with, a young daughter at an early hour Monday morning, Dr. R. E. Ryle attending physician. Mother and babe doing well.

Protracted Meeting Closed

At the Walton Methodist Church, Sunday Morning with Several Additions.

The protracted meeting at the Walton Methodist church closed Sunday morning after a ten day's session, several members being added to the church. The pastor, Rev. T. T. Roberts, of Wilmore, Ky., did the preaching and the attendance was large during the meeting and considerable interest was manifested.

Sunday afternoon the district conference was held; Dr. J. L. Clark, Presiding Elder, presiding. Dr. Clark is a gentleman of exceptionally brilliant attainments and is the most popular presiding elder that this district has had for some time. He is very lovable man, of charming characteristics. With such learned men as Dr. Clark in our pulpits, the Methodist church would grow rapidly.

V. D. James left Wednesday for Chicago, Ill. on a business trip to his firm the G. H. Denton Co., manufacturers of exclusive advertising specialties. His firm has given him the territory of Cincinnati and Kentucky. Mr. James has been very successful in his sales and has, but recently secured the prize for selling more goods than any other salesman. He anticipates remaining two weeks in the "Windy City."

Miss Helen McIntyre, a charming little lady from Covington, arrived here Tuesday on a visit to her sister Mrs. H. S. Johnson and family of North Main street, and friends.

ANTIQUE FURNITURE

Col. Bolivar Bond of Versailles, Here Tuesday Buying Antique Furniture.

Tuesday, Col. Bolivar Bond, accompanied by his wife and daughter of Versailles, Ky., were here for the purpose of buying antique furniture and bric-a-brac. He purchased some old furniture from J. J. Hudson, who is past 80 years old, whose grandfather made the furniture at Maysville, Ky., which gives some idea of the age of the furniture. Among the pieces was a sideboard, chest of drawers, two high-post cord bedsteads, drop leaf table and sugar chest for which he paid $115.00. He also bought some antique furniture from W. B. Johnson, Col. Bond will have the furniture taken to Versailles by truck. He has a magnificent residence at Versailles and will have the old furniture finished in an elaborate manner to install in his residence.

O. E. S. Inspection

Grand Worthy Matron Mrs. Josephine Keller of Louisville Will Inspect Walton Chapter, Monday Night.

The annual inspection of Walton Chapter No. 161, Order Eastern Star, will be held Monday night at the hall corner of Railroad and South Main streets. Grand Worthy Matron Mrs. Josephine Keller of Louisville, Ky., will be present and do the inspecting. Quite a large number of members of the order from Covington, Newport, Ft. Thomas and other adjacent chapters will be present. Walton Chapter has the reputation of doing excellent work and has always received high praise from the inspecting body annually. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

HON. A. B. ROUSE

Chosen Chairman of the Sixth District State Chamber of Commerce.

Hon. A. B. Rouse, vice president of the Liberty National Bank, Covington, has been appointed chairman for the Sixth District of the State Chamber of Commerce. The district comprises the counties of Kenton, Boone, Campbell, Carroll, Gallatin, Grant and Pendleton and Trimble. It is but recently that the State Chamber of Commerce was established in Kentucky, and this was done mainly through the efforts of the members of the Kentucky Press Association. All progressive states have their chamber of commerce and it is a great factor in advancing the interests of the State.

Ward Yager, Democratic candidate for Commonwealth Attorney of this the Fifteenth Judicial District, was here Wednesday and made the Advertiser office a pleasant call. Mr. Yager says he feels well satisfied about the outlook, is making a strenuous canvass and is meeting with great encouragement.

IRA ELMORE

Died After Suffering Nine Years From Effect of World War

Ira Elmore, age 34, died Tuesday night at the home of his father, James Elmore at Kensington. He had been a sufferer for nine years from tuberculosis contracted while a soldier in the great World War. He is said to have lain on the battlefield for several days before found by the ambulance corps. His sister and father nursed him tenderly all these years of suffering. He is survived by one brother and three sisters besides his father. His funeral will take place at Pythian Grove, Harrison county, Ky. tomorrow (Friday), where religious services will be held. Undertaker C. Scott Chambers has charge of the funeral.

Mrs. Milo Atkinson of San Diego, Cal., arrived here Wednesday evening en route to the bedside of her mother Mrs. Laura Chambers, of Petersburg, Ky., who is quite ill. She visited her brother C. Scott Chambers and family while here.

Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Motter of Indianapolis, Ind. arrived here Monday on a visit to his aunt Mrs. D. B. Wallace and husband of South Main street.

Looking Over Walton And Verona Pike

M. D. Ross of Covington, District Engineer, Was Viewing the Road Wednesday.

The Walton and Verona pike, which is included in the primary State Roads, was overlooked Wednesday with the idea of making preparations to build the road in the near future. He was accompanied by County Judge N. E. Riddell of Burlington.

The road when built will be widened in grading and concrete surfaced. The State will then take over this highway and the taxpayers will be relieved of all road tax burdens on this highway. It is not likely the highway will be built this year as it will be necessary to secure bids which will have to be acted on by the State Highway Commission.

UNDER A SPECIALIST

Geo. W. Wayman, proprietor of Wayman's Garage, has been in Cincinnati for a couple of weeks taking treatment under a specialist for bladder trouble. He is improving and anticipates returning home the latter part of this week.

A Beauty Parlor

To Be Opened In The New Walton Equitable Bank Building In The Near Future.

Mrs. Edna Stangler, course in the Cincinnati, graduated last week with high honors at that institution in demonstration work. This is to show her proficiency in her work and in her examinations she received an average of 98—almost perfect. She has rented a suite of rooms in the new Walton Equitable Bank building and will have it nicely furnished, moving to her new just as soon as the building is completed, opening a beauty parlor, which will be within the next two weeks. She is a fine little lady and will take pleasure in serving her patrons in all the latest ideas of a beauty parlor.

WALTON LOSES AND WINS

The Boone County Chevrolet Team of Walton was defeated Saturday by the Petersburg, Ky. team at Petersburg by the score of 18 to 5, but came back Sunday with a nicely earned victory over the All-Southern Ohio team of the Spynney league of Cincinnati.

The game at Petersburg was a ragged fielding affair due to the condition of the grounds. It so happened that Petersburg played the best ball in the pinches which spelled defeat for the Chevrolet. It seemed that the whole Chevrolet team was away off form, due largely to being unfamiliar with the grounds.

The game Sunday was easily won by the Chevrolet, the score being 12 to 5. Powers, the Chevrolet pitcher, was very effective and victory was never in doubt for the Chevrolet from the third inning on.

The Boone County Chevrolets will play Bellevue, Ky. here, Saturday, July 23, and the Ludlow White Sox of Ludlow, Ky. here Sunday, July 24th. Let everyone make it their determined effort to be at these games as they promise to be a fine exhibition of baseball. High-Pockets.

NEAR EAST LECTURER

Miss Beth Higgins of Louisville, the State Advisor for the Near East Relief movement will speak at Hughes Chapel next Sunday morning, then coming to Walton speaking in the Christian church at 2:30 in the afternoon. This is an interdenominational movement and the entire community is cordially invited.

There is a big time in store for you at the Farmers Picnic at the Florence Fair Grounds on Saturday.

Surplus Capital

Makes a wonderful showing for the upbuilding of a community when deposited in your local bank, but it does not help when it is deposited in banks outside of your territory, as it reduces your circulating medium with which loans can be made, deprives your locality of taxes, which naturally increases yours. If there were no deposits in your local banks there would be no money to loan to anybody regardless of how good the security, and there would have to be not less than one thousand dollars more collected for taxes if the bank sources were eliminated. Keep your money in your local bank where you receive all of these benefits, and will be paid interest on time deposits. Few sources do more for you and the community than your local banks, and in building them up to a high standard you are merely adding to your own assets and general welfare. We are helping you in many ways that you do not realize and can do more with your assistance.

Yours for the community spirit.

INDIANS GAINING IN SELF-RELIANCE

Redmen Now Grapple With Own Problems.

Spokane, Wash.—The Pacific northwest Indian, treated once as an enemy of the white man and since his subjugation as a ward, is assuming a self-reliant role as a consequence of a movement inaugurated by the red man himself.

Paul G. Wapato, full-blooded American Indian, is the moving spirit in the transformation.

The crusade had its inception in the seizure of control of the northwest Indian congress by the new generation of Indians following a plea by Wapato for unified thought and action among his race. The coup swept him into the presidency, formerly held by a white man, and carried through a set of decisions which voiced the demands of the younger generation.

Since that time Wapato, who is frankly impatient of the story book, moving picture, Wild West idea of the Indian, has been inducing the tribes of the Pacific northwest to form as associations on their various reservations for the discussion of problems and reaching of agreement as to suggested remedies.

There has been too much complaining against the wrongs the Indians have suffered at the hands of white men, he believes, and not enough effort on the part of the Indians to improve their condition.

It is his hope that by the time the next Indian congress convenes in September the various tribes will have agreed on definite and concrete proposals for settlement of their problems instead of sitting by while representatives of the Indian bureau and others discuss them from the white man's point of view.

Wapato, left on his own resources at the age of thirteen by the death of his father, worked his way through the Wenatchee high school and Willamette university, where he studied law. His brother, Paschal Sherman, who holds a number of college degrees, is an employee of the war-risk department at Washington.

Finds Mystery Cloud

Berkeley, Calif.—A theory that blue clouds that defy analysis float about the planet Mars was announced recently by W. M. Wright astronomer at Lick observatory.

His latest observations with the arcuate camera, however, show that there are two types of clouds: the Martian atmosphere, one probably white, but appearing yellow because of the absorbing effect of the planet's atmosphere, and the blue clouds, which float at a higher altitude. The yellow, or white, clouds Wright styled water vapor clouds. He has been unable to determine the exact nature of the blue clouds, but he expressed belief that much of the prominence of the planet's polar caps was due to a blue cloud floating over them.

Grinds Plate Glass

Fremont, Neb.—With a section of stovepipe and a piece of plate glass, Gilbert Luenigheuser, student at Midland college, has made a powerful telescope.

It took him ten months. He fashioned the glass into a parabolic mirror, the most important part of the instrument, by more than 100 hours of grinding, polishing and figuring. In the final polishing he effaced, by hand, irregularities of less than one hundred thousandths of an inch. He took a piece of ten-inch stovepipe and painted it black and white to make the barrel of the telescope. Except for a right-angle prism and an eyepiece, the whole instrument is handmade.

The device has a magnifying power of 90 diameters—strong enough to enable its maker to study four satellite of Jupiter, the crescent of Venus, the rings of Saturn, the Orion nebula and the topography of the Moon.

Crop Increased 20 Per Cent by Electricity

Chicago.—A 20 per cent increase in the yield of farm lands has been obtained through the use of atmospheric electricity as a stimulant to crops, says a report made by a committee of the American Electric Research association.

Observations are being made on the farm of Henry Surber of Warrenton, Mo., one of the first to claim an increase in crops from applying electric stimulant. The method also is being used to cure cancerous vegetable growths.

The method used is merely discharging electricity through the ground at the root of the plants, using wires and a device which catches the electric currents from the air. It is widely used in France with success, the report stated.

Inoculation Needed for Soy Bean Crop

Furnishes Bacteria Nodules on Roots of the Plant.

One of the greatest values of the soy bean crop will be missed if those who plant soy will fail to inoculate the seed, says K. G. Harman of the Missouri College of Agriculture. Inoculation furnishes the bacteria that form nodules on the roots of the soy bean and take nitrogen out of the air. This is important because it furnishes a nitrogen supply for the plant and also makes it possible for the soy bean to grow without drawing so heavily on the soil for this element.

Soy beans require an average of 60 pounds of nitrogen for each ton of growth. When they are not inoculated all this must come from the soil the same as it does in case of a corn or wheat crop. When they are inoculated and nodules form in abundance on the roots 40 pounds of this 60 is taken from the air and 20 from the soil. Nitrogen sells on the fertilizer market at 30 cents a pound. Inoculation then saves the soil $12 worth of nitrogen for each ton of growth.

Another advantage of using inoculation is that on poor soils the soy beans will make much better growth where there is a good formation of nodules on the roots.

Inoculation may be secured from the state department of the Missouri College of Agriculture at Columbia at 25 cents for enough inoculation to treat one bushel of seed. This supplies the seed for one to three acres, according to the method of planting. When one realizes what it saves the soil in fertility and how it improves the chances for better growth of soy beans this makes the expenditure of 25 cents a very profitable one.

Use Production Records

To Boost Sale of Cows

Putting dairy cows in a dairy herd improvement, or cow testing, association and getting definite records on them as milk butterfat producers may add as much as $15 a head to their value. This is the opinion of at least one of the many members of dairy herd improvement associations in Illinois. He is a member of the association in Knox county and recently when he held a sale of dairy cattle the record of one cow was announced as follows: "This cow has produced an average selling price of $15 a head."

In another case, records on the performance of the cows were credited with having added $30 to a sale average. Cows in this sale brought an average of $125 a head. After the sale, some of the remarks heard around the ring were: "Herd improvement association records sure helped these cows." "It is hard to believe for these records, those cows wouldn't have averaged more than $75." "He made enough on one cow to pay all his dairy herd improvement association costs." The owner himself said, "My cows are sold to the good and the records helped a lot."

Higher prices for surplus cows at the time they are sold is but one of the several ways in which dairy herd improvement association members cash in on the value of testing, according to J. H. Brock, assistant in dairy extension at the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, where the work of the Illinois associations is supervised.

Farm Manure Is Subject to Tremendous Losses

Farm manure is subject to tremendous losses from leaching and fermentation if it is improperly handled. If piled in loose heaps where it is exposed to the sun, a large part of the nitrogen and more than half of the potash will leach away. Also, under such conditions, the manure ferments rapidly, with the result that still more of the nitrogen escapes in the form of ammonia. The manure cannot be hauled directly to the fields as produced, it should be kept under shelter, and in a moist compact condition. An excellent plan is to have a manure shed where the manure is placed when it is taken out of the stable. Cattle and other stock should be allowed access to this shed, and in this way the manure is kept thoroughly packed. The least loss will occur when the manure is kept moist, compact, and under shelter.

In Planting Young Trees

Firm the Soil Tightly

Firming the soil tightly around the roots of young forest seedlings when they are planted is the most important single item in securing a good start and healthy growth the first year. After the seedling's roots are covered with earth, the person doing the planting should tamp it in place by a downward thrust of his heel. When seedlings are planted on soils that have a heavy sod that produces a rank growth each year, it is often necessary to remove some of the sod so the grass will not smother or choke the little tree; a ten-inch square is usually enough and the tree should be planted in the center of the space. On thin, worn-out soils—such as old pastures, however, it is necessary only to make a slit in the sod with a grub hoe and insert the roots of the seedling.

First Autos in New York

According to the November, 1895, issue of the Horseless Age, a Frenchman, Roger, brought the first horseless carriages to New York in June of that year. They were run around the city streets to advertise R. H. Macy's department store. In 1896 Barham & Bailey advertised that they would exhibit a horseless vehicle as part of their show.

Birds Nest in April

In April, hinchin, robins, chickadees, nuthatches, and phoebe begin housebuilding, says Nature Magazine. A few well-placed houses are certain to have tenants before the month is very old, and by setting them low along fences or on the laundry line poles, one may watch the birds closely.

Nature's Laws Unbroken

Another Use for Ray

Ultra-violet radiation, consisting of light waves too short to be seen by the human eye, may some day play an important part in agriculture, as it does now in medicine, for it has shown good results on the germination and growth of seeds.

LOG IS OBJECT OF WORSHIP BY WEIRD PEOPLE

Explorers Tell of Queer Rites by Tribe More An- cient Than Mayas.

New Orleans.—A tribe of log worshippers, living in the highlands of Guatemala, proved to be one of the most amazing of the many extraordinary things discovered by the third official expedition of the Tulane university department of middle American research.

Oliver La Farge and Douglas Byers have returned to New Orleans on the United Fruit liner Castilla after spending four months with the descendants of the Mayas and with highland tribes whose ancestors date back centuries before the Mayas had ascended from the principal.

La Farge and Byers are ethnologists at Tulane and are known as authorities on the early culture of Central America. They made their home at Guatemala, a native town perched on a rocky ledge 500 feet above a noisy river.

Sacred Log in a Cave. Across the valley, also in the Cuchumatanes mountains, lies the hamlet of Santa Eulalia, home of the log worshippers. This holy place of timber is known as "the head of the village" and it is kept carefully locked in a cave.

Here, once every few months, the high ecclesiastics of the village—and in the mountain country of Guatemala the men of the cloth are fat and influential and numerous—visit the cavern with great ceremony. They hold secret converse with the log and Hold Secret Converses With the Log. Learn from it the events that are to pass during the ensuing months.

What the log tells these holy men is law and gospel in Santa Eulalia. Only a few important men can see this log; only a few important men can talk to it, and only a few important men can listen to the gems of wisdom that come from it.

Spent Time on Rock Ledge

La Farge and Byers spent nearly all of their time at Jacaltenango, which is in a manner of speaking quite a metropolis. It houses 500 families, or a total population of nearly 2,000. The slopes of the rocky mountain on which it is built are terraced and level, and to get to the village is no small feat in itself.

Here before the Christian era the ancestors of the highlanders were safely housed and able to defend themselves easily from marauding tribes.

More Ancient Than the Mayas. In the Cuchumatanes La Farge and Byers found that most of the natives belonged to the real highland tribes, which have been there as far back as can be traced, rather than the Mayas of the big ruins and the present Mayas, who live in Yucatan. However, the Mayas group which reached the Guatemalan mountain districts about the eighth century A. D. people white towns.

The purely ecclesiastical duties of each village are in the hands of six officials called rez adores, who pray in holy places for the general good of the community. They wear bluish and striped shirts, to say nothing of the symbolic staves they carry as they gravely go about their holy business.

Heart in Wrong Spot; Life Saved in Shooting

Rockville, Md.—That William Smith, a young negro, of Bethesda being being shot recently in a fight is due to the fact that his heart is not in the right place, according to Dr. Benjamin C. Perry of Bethesda, Md. Smith, a game and athletic young man, got mixed up in a quarrel between James Wade and Allen Rosebro, both colored, over 50 cents, and after Rosebro had shot and killed Wade a bullet pierced Smith's chest. Smith was rushed to the office of Doctor Perry and it was discovered that his heart was two inches out of plumb. His recovery is probable.

Automobiles Aid Alfalfa Growing

Legume Becoming Popular as Market for Timothy Hay Is Dwindling.

Automobiles aid the production of alfalfa, because, as they replace horses, the market for timothy hay, which was once a major cash crop on many New York farms, dwindles and in its place farmers in some sections are producing the legume, says the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

Best Cash Crop. As a cash crop, alfalfa is better than timothy, because the demand for timothy is poor. As alfalfa is used more and more by feeders in regions where it cannot be produced cheaply, the demand probably will increase.

Aside from the chances of marketing it at a profit, alfalfa has other advantages, the college says. It is high in protein and therefore can be substituted, in part, for high-protein concentrates in feeding dairy cattle. The college points out that alfalfa prices were good and New York growers found it a profitable field crop even when the prices of mill feeds were low. If it was profitable to grow alfalfa then, it should be still more profitable to grow it when the prices of mill feeds are higher, for this should stimulate the use of alfalfa.

Sell Good Product.

Farmers who plan to produce alfalfa to sell, however, should be careful to offer only that which is free from weeds and other impurities and which is well cured. Much New York alfalfa that is marketed usually has to be sold at a low price because it has poor quality. The college advises farmers in sections adapted to the crop to grow more than they need at home and plan to sell only a good-quality product.

Live Stock in Wood Lot

Hinder Timber Growth

The farm wood lot is more valuable as a producer of wood than as a pasture for live stock, according to C. R. Tillotson, forester of the United States Department of Agriculture. A year's forage production in the average wood lot is estimated to be worth from 25 cents to $1.25 an acre. In the same time a well-managed wood lot will add from one-half to one cord of wood. In addition there is the convenience of having a supply of live stock, poles, posts and lumber near at hand.

Live stock, especially sheep, hinder young growth, bend it, strip it of bark, and tramp it out. Also by tramping the soil around the roots of older trees they pack it so tightly that air and water are excluded from the roots and the trees gradually die. Logs eat the seeds of oak and beech and thus interfere with the establishment of seedlings. Heavily pastured woods are easily recognized; they are almost entirely devoid of bushy undergrowth.

Live stock has begun to creep in, and the old trees are beginning to die in the tops.

Live stock undoubtedly benefit from the shelter afforded by woods. Two or three acres of woods, well ordinarily give them all the shelter they need; the remainder of the woods had better be fenced off to grow wood crop.

Quack Grass Is Killed

by Covering With Paper

Patches of quack grass are most easily killed by covering them with tar paper, says Matthew Fowlds at the South Dakota Agricultural college. Several experimental fields have been covered by a four-foot rotation of corn, oats, wheat and sweet clover or a similar combination. As soon as the sweet clover crop was harvested the stubble was plowed under.

Throughout the balance of the summer the ground was frequently disked and cultivated. Alfalfa has kept the weed from spreading but will not kill it in that state.

In Michigan J. F. Cox at the agricultural college advises very shallow plowing in August when whole fields are infected. Then disk and cross disk to cut the sod into pieces. The roots can then be baked together and burned. As soon as rain cakes the ground run over the field with a spring tooth harrow or disk, repeating every ten days. The next spring plow as early as possible, seven to nine inches deep, and plant a cultivated crop.

Agricultural Facts

Horse sense is needed for success with any kind of live stock.

Keep the poultry house clean and the birds are more likely to keep healthy.

Worms that eat holes in fruit and truck crops also eat holes in the profits.

A wild wheat that is spreading as a weed in Kansas wheat fields has recently been given the popular name of "goat grass."

A ewe that has lost her lamb can be made to claim another ewe's lamb if the skin of the dead lamb is placed on the other lamb and the ewe is tied up and watched a few days while the new lamb nurses.

'FARM' POLTRY

WATCH MARKETING EGGS AND POULTRY

"Poultry production is running wild without chart or compass, stimulated by past profits, by a tendency to shift from other nonpoultry branches of agriculture to poultry raising, and by optimistic statements of those who sell supplies to poultrymen."

This is a statement of Prof. James R. Hice, head of the poultry department of the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y., commenting on trends in the poultry industry.

Recent figures showing the enrollment in the correspondence courses in poultry husbandry offered by the college, bear out this statement.

Nearly five hundred New York State farmers are studying the four poultry courses, and an analysis of this figure shows that approximately fifty are studying the general management of a laying flock to one who is taking the course in marketing of eggs and poultry.

"This may indicate," say college authorities, "that the poultrymen are a great deal more interested in producing eggs and poultry than they are in marketing them so they can compete with the high-quality products shipped to eastern markets by midwest and far west producers."

"Better marketing and curtailed production," according to Professor Hice, "are necessary to save the New York State poultry industry from a serious depression."

Dirty Eggs Expensive to Careless Poultryman

Dirty eggs, especially numerous this time of year, cost farmers and poultrymen from one to three cents per egg. Therefore, the lower grade in which they are placed, according to E. R. Menefee of Purdue university, who is investigating marketing of poultry and eggs.

Three principal causes may be assigned for the large volume of dirty eggs. Menefee found. They were: too few eggs, resulting in the hens hiding their nests in dirty, wet places; unclean nests, and allowing hens free range in wet weather.

Dirty eggs may be eliminated by providing a sufficient number of clean roosts, at least one to every five eggs. These should be placed in a dark place and the eggs should be kept in a clean place.

Do not permit hens to roost in the nests at night and change straw or shavings at frequent intervals. The wet range is the most common cause of dirty eggs. Keeping hens confined to the house or under a shed until noon, and gathering of eggs before they are let out will keep eggs clean.

Ducks Not Particular Where They Leave Eggs

Ducks lay heavily during the laying season. However, they are not particular as to where they leave the eggs. It is no uncommon sight to see duck eggs scattered here and there in the yard or bog lot. As a result of this thoughtless attitude on their part, many eggs are eaten or destroyed by dogs, swine or the ducks themselves.

The proper method of handling the ducks in order to get all the eggs laid is by keeping the ducks confined in a duck house or abandoned stall of the barn during the night and until eight or nine o'clock in the morning.

Poultry Items

Tobacco in some form is now generally used as a remedy for intestinal worms in poultry.

Remove all males four to five weeks of age. Furnish perching space early to prevent crowding.

You can't have thirty chicks unless they get sunlight—either direct, or through these glass substitutes. Window glass strains out the life-giving violet rays.

The demand for fresh duck eggs is never over-supplied.

"The best hens and roosters to keep and to breed from," says one poultryman, "are the bright, nervous, talkative kind, not the 'squawkers.' These are signs of vigor, and vigor means eggs."

It is the general practice not to keep breeding ducks more than three or four years, although people have kept them with good results until they were eight years old.

Heavy egg production, like heavy milk production, can only be secured by liberal feeding of a well-balanced ration.

Only three chicks should be placed in the brooder house for every square foot of its floor space. A house 10 by 10 feet will hold only 300 chicks.

Scratch feed, mash, meat scrap and milk, properly fed, under common-sense methods make it possible to bring poultry into egg production successfully.

Farm Brought $2,600

The farm of 38 acres belonging to Millard Allen of Lexington, Ky., was sold at public auction by the Geo. W. Gili Realty Co. of Shelbyville, Ky., Saturday for $2,600. The farm is located near Independence Station on the Independence and Devon pike. A house and lot in North Walton was also sold at auction to T. M. Vest. G. B. Powers is the local agent.

KAFRALU ISLAND

In Sandusky Bay, On Lake Erie, Is Camp Slater

P. C. Youell, our expert pleatorial artist, in other words a fisherman, returned home Sunday from a two weeks outing at Kafralu Island, in Sandusky Bay (Ohio) on Lake Erie. He was the only one of the party who was able to land a fish. J. C. Slater of Ludlow, Ky., is the local agent.

And, among the thirty-eight guests, men, women and children from Ludlow, Covington, Newport, Walton and Cleveland. The guests were entertained with music, dancing, singing, boat riding, water sports, ice cream suppers and chicken soups. Dr. Slater and wife had prepared a large flat boat, which was decorated on top with willows and flowers; in the center was a large table the full length of the boat, spread with all the good things to eat. The guests were all in costume and masked and a motor boat pulled the barge far out in the lake. Speeches, songs and music were some of the other features. Then a moonlight ride up and down Sandusky Bay followed, which was the finale of a great and glorious time.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Finnell of North Main street, entertained Hansford Wilson of New York City, W. C. Harris and wife, Mrs. Anna Stephens of Independence and Mrs. Robert Stevens of High street, Tuesday. Nice refreshments of ice cream, lemonade and cake were served on the occasion.

To the Taxpayers And Insurers of the Town of Walton

For several years I have been telling the Town Council that we ought to keep in touch with the State Department in order to guard and protect our fire insurance rating. They have threatened repeatedly to raise our rating from a ninth to a tenth class if we did not keep our fire engine in proper place and ready at a moments warning to get on the road to a fire. A stren must be installed and sounded at the noon hour each day. This is to let the town know that there is some one on guard and to give them the exact time and to know that the service is working properly. The fire truck must set so there will never be any thing in the way in getting a start, as they claim the first four minutes generally decide a fire and are worth ten times more than ten minutes afterward. Our town is now a tenth class rated town and I am working hard to get the meter adjusted in order that I may save the people of Walton money by getting the rate lowered just as soon as possible. I have been promised a substantial reduction in rates as soon as we can comply with the State Rating Commission at Louisville. Also I can have a representative here again from the State Department at a short notice to help adjust these matters. I am not a property owner in Walton but am interested in the insuring public and am anxious to save the people of Walton money on their fire risks. You pay your taxes for the upkeep of your town and there is nothing that is more essential than your fire department.

Your town council are good men but of course they do not want to spend the town's money without they think it extremely necessary, and possibly they would like to know if the people of the town want these matters adjusted and it is your duty to cooperate with them and support them in these vital needs of our town.

Let's have a safe town and lower fire insurance rates, and all be boosters for our little town, for all tourists tell me this is the prettiest and best kept town they pass through.

Yours very truly,
G. B. POWERS.

Mrs. Jack Warner of Chicago, Ill. is here visiting her sister Mrs. Geo. W. Layman and family of North Main street.

Mrs. James Baird and daughter Miss Catherine of Atlanta, Ga. arrived here Monday night on a week's visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Mart Benson of High street.

Col. W. B. Johnson spent Friday in Williamstown, Ky. on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Grubbs and pretty daughter Miss Evelyn Fay of Miami, Fla. arrived here Friday on a visit to his brother I. T. Grubbs and family of South Main street and friends here. George is the only one that left this section for Florida that has the most favorable report to make of the "land of sunshine". He has made good and has a fine position with a large bonding company. M. D. Ross, District Highway Engineer, with headquarters at Covington, Judge N. E. Riddell and Sheriff L. T. Utz of Burlington, were visitors here Wednesday on business. Judge Riddell made the Advertiser office a pleasant call.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Stephens returned home here Sunday night after spending two weeks at Crab Orchard Springs, Ky. taking a much needed rest. Both looked much improved on their return. They drove through in an automobile and while most of the highways were fine, Everett said he struck some short stretches of bad road near their destination at the springs.

Rice Godman of Patriot, Ind., was here on business, Saturday.

Motor Licenses Here & Elsewhere

Kentucky Motor Car Owners Pay Nearly Three Times What Is Charged In Other States.

Much interest has been attracted to the proposal of Robert T. Crowe of Lagrange, Ky. candidate for Governor for a reduction of motor taxes paid by Kentucky automobile owners. There is quite a difference between the motor car license in Kentucky and other states. The following is the license in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois:

Kentucky—Ford Coupe $13.57
Indiana—Ford Coupe 10.00
Ohio—Ford Coupe 4.00
Illinois—Ford Coupe 8.00
Kentucky—Dodge Car 17.50
Ohio—Dodge Car 8.00
Kentucky—Packard Car 22.21
Indiana—Packard Car 10.00

The gasoline tax of 5 cents will not be disturbed, but with the reduction of the license there will be much more gasoline used, thereby making up far more than the difference in the State revenue on automobiles.

Mrs. Mary Shinkle

Aged Philanthropist of Near Ft. Mitchell Died, Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Hemingway Shinkle, widow of Bradford Shinkle, who died in 1909, passed away Saturday after an illness incident to old age, she being 81 years old at the time of her death. She was identified with charitable work in both Covington and Cincinnati. She was a member of the First Baptist church of Covington. Her funeral took place Monday at 3 p. m. from her late residence, Rev. L. L. Hanson, her pastor, officiated at the funeral.

Howard McKinney, Theodore Plummer and Miss Gladys McKinney spent Sunday with Miss Sarabel Wilson of High street.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Dudley of North Main street entertained the following with an elaborate dinner Sunday: Dr. J. L. Clark and daughter Miss Clark of Ft. Thomas, Ky. Miss Sadie Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hughes, Mrs. F. H. Hoffman, Miss Louise Coffey and Rev. T. T. Roberts and daughter Miss Viola.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The Walton Christian church will hold its annual picnic on Thursday, July 28th at Lloyd's Woods, near Crittenden. We had a good crowd and a fine time last year but we want to have a better time this year, as you all are invited to come and enjoy the day with us. Plenty of good talks, games and amusements of all kinds. Come and enjoy the day—you will feel more like work afterwards. There will be ways provided for all to see. Remember the place—Lloyd's Woods, near Crittenden, the date—July 28. Remember the occasion—Walton Christian church picnic.

The pastor
Cuthbert McComas of Holbrook, Grant County, Democratic candidate for joint representative of the counties of Grant and Boone, was here Wednesday interviewing the Democratic voters. He says he is well pleased with the outlook.

Raymond Laws Drowned In L. and N. Lake Last Night

Lost Hold On Raft and Could Not Swim. Clifford Dudgeon and Cliff Powers Attempt Rescue Dudgeon Narrowly Escapes Same Fate

BODY RECOVERED TWO HOURS AFTER

Hundreds At Lake to Render Assistance

Wednesday night about 7 o'clock the citizens of Walton were horrified to hear of the death of Raymond Laws, who was drowned in the L. & N. Lake about a mile and a half west of Walton. He had left the town with a number of boys full of life and vigor and in a few hours was brought home a corpse. It appears from information, that he could not swim and was clinging to a small log raft. The other boys were climbing on the raft and diving off into the water, and it is supposed that when the raft was suddenly moved in these plunges he lost hold of the raft and sank beneath the water. Clifford Dudgeon and Cliff Powers, who were nearby attempted to save the drowning youth, but Clifford Dudgeon in a frantic manner and both disappeared beneath the water. Dudgeon by a herculean effort tore himself loose and came to the surface in a strangled condition. The water was about sixteen feet deep at this point which is in the eastern part of the lake. Other efforts were made to rescue the drowning lad who remained at the bottom, but there being no expert divers present the alarm was spread and hundreds drove to the lake to render what assistance they could. Boats were brought from Kennington lake, owned by Elmore Brothers and after about two hours after the sad accident, his body was caught on a hook by E. O. Webster and Jesse L. Thornton and the remains were taken to the home of his grief-stricken parents Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Laws of High street. Their grief can hours before he left in the bloom of youth and happy spirits. Undertaker C. Scott Chambers & daughter prepared the remains for burial.

Raymond was just budding into manhood and would be 21 years of age next December. He was an industrious young man and was employed in the Fifth-Third National Bank, Cincinnati, Ohio. Besides his parents he is survived by four brothers as follows: Clyde, Jesse, Glenn and a half brother Harley Jones of Cincinnati; three sisters Mrs. Agnes Robfegol of Flint, Mich, Miss Margaret Laws and Mrs. Elmer Breeden, the former a half sister.

He was a member of the Walton Baptist church and a member of the church quartette. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from the Baptist church, when Rev. C. L. Breland will preach the funeral sermon. Interment will be in Walton cemetery and Undertaker C. Scott Chambers will have charge of the funeral.

The sympathy of this community is tendered the grief-stricken parents, brothers and sisters in this great shock in the sudden loss of their loved one. It may well be said: "In the midst of life, we are in death."

W. T. Ammerman of Hutchinson, Kansas, spent from Saturday until Tuesday here visiting his sister Mrs. Roy Dickerson and husband of Chambers street, South Walton. Mr. Ammerman is traveling representative of the National Cash Register Co. of Dayton, Ohio.

Prof. and Mrs. H. V. Price of High street entertained his sister Mrs. Howard Parker of Ghent, Ky, Monday and Tuesday. She was en route from Richmond, Ky, where she had been visiting her parents Judge and Mrs. W. K. Price.

Surplus Capital

Makes a wonderful showing for the upbuilding of a community when deposited in your local bank, but it does not help when it is deposited in banks outside of your territory, as it reduces your circulating medium with which loans can be made, deprives your locality of taxes, which naturally increases yours. If there were no deposits in your local banks there would be no money to loan to anybody regardless of how good the security, and there would have to be not less than one thousand dollars more collected for taxes if the bank sources were eliminated. Keep your money in your local bank where you receive all of these benefits, and will be paid interest on time deposits. Few sources do more for you and the community than your local banks, and in building them up to a high standard you are merely adding to your own assets and general welfare. We are helping you in many ways that you do not realize and can do more with your assistance.

Yours for the community spirit,

WALTON EQUITABLE BANK, Walton, Ky.

Eastern Star Inspection
One of the Most Elaborate and Most Largely Attended Inspections in the History of the Chapter

Walton Chapter's Work. Pronounced Perfect By The Grand Worthy Matron.

The annual inspection of Walton Chapter, No. 161, Order Eastern Star, Monday night was one of the largest if not the most largely attended events of this nature that has ever occurred here. All the Worthy Matrons and Patrons of the Thirtieth District, were present. There were 115 visitors present and with the local members numbered 150.

The hall was most elaborately and beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers with varied colored floor lamps. The East was a veritable bowler of flowers of various shades and pretty baskets. Among them was a beautiful basket of flowers presented by C. Scott Chambers.

In the course of exemplifying the degree on the candidate, Miss Gladys McCarty, the pretty and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McCarty, W. W. Rouse and G. J. Grubbs sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Blanche Coffman. After the work was completed Mrs. Emma Menefee, Past Grand Worthy Matron, presented Miss McCarty with a pin emblematic of the degree, a gift from Mrs. W. W. King. Mrs. Pearl Johnson, in a very pretty and appropriate speech presented Miss Gladys with a similar pin, a gift from her mother. Rev. Edw. C. Boose, pastor of the Walton Christian Church, in his own inimitable manner presented a gift to the Deputy Grand Matron, Mrs. Welshart of Ft. Thomas. This was followed by Mrs. Emma Menefee presenting a gift from the Walton Chapter to the Grand Worthy Matron, Mrs. Josephine Keller of Louisville.

Many splendid speeches were made by visiting sisters and brothers. The work of Walton Chapter was so perfect that the Grand Worthy Matron, as inspecting officer, could find nothing but praise for the excellent work which she pronounced perfect. And right here, let us say, that this was made possible only by the excellent little Worthy Matron, Mrs. Edna Stamler, and the loyal co-operation of the members, coupled with the most excellent work of the Worthy Patron, George P. Nicholson, who acquitted himself with great credit and was untiring in his efforts to assist his Worthy Matron. Mrs. Lydia Stephens, in a very pretty and impressive speech presented the Worthy Matron with a basket of beautiful red roses, as a slight token of their love and esteem for her untiring efforts as the presiding officer during her occupancy of her office.

At the close of the meeting nice refreshments of cake and ice cream were served. Taken all together it was a most delightful and enjoyable evening and everyone present greatly enjoyed the event.

The Cole Sale a Success

The auction sale of the Dr. Cole estate at Florence, Ky., Tuesday by the Guy Downs Realty Co., of Shelbyville, Ky., was largely attended and everything offered brought good prices. The residence property was bought by Mr. Coaker of Covington, Ky. for $8,750. The same company will have another sale near Richmond in the near future, an ad. of same which will appear in the Walton Advertiser.

Mrs. J. L. Reeves, one of our former Frankfort, Ky., spent Monday and Tuesday here with friends. She attended the annual inspection of Walton Chapter, No. 161, Order Eastern Star, Monday night and on Tuesday afternoon attended the meeting of the Woman's Literary Club at the home of club member Mrs. A. P. Stephens on High street. Her many friends here were pleased to meet her.

$50,000 Fire At Williamstown

Three Business Places and Residence Destroyed

Three business establishments and a large frame residence were destroyed, and the Baptist church and other buildings were damaged in a fire which threatened the main business section of Williamstown, Ky., early Saturday. The total loss was estimated at $50,000. The fire department of Williamstown, aided by that of Dry Ridge, Ky., prevented the flames from sweeping through the town.

The fire swept places and estimated losses are as follows:

Variety store of W. A. Caldwell; $2,500.
Grocery of O. P. Beasley; $3,000.
Dixie Restaurant and rooming house; $1,500.
Needham Block; 25,000.

Two-story frame residence of W. T. Bennett; $10,000.

Other residences and buildings suffered slight damages. The variety store, grocery and restaurant were located in the Needham Block, a two story brick building on Main street. This and the Bennett residence were landmarks of Williamstown, having been built over fifty years ago.

The fire it is said originated in the Dixie restaurant, the cause being undetermined, at 12:30 a. m. Several transient roomers above the restaurant were forced to flee without their clothing.

The place was discovered by Rufus Wood, proprietor of the B & W Hotel, which is across the street from the Needham Block.

The fire spread rapidly to the other establishments in the Needham Block and soon it was a furnace, with flames threatening to attack other buildings. Citizens formed a bucket brigade to aid the firemen and keep roofs of adjoining buildings covered with water to quench the shower of sparks that would have started additional blazes. The Needham Block was destroyed and the Bennett residence nearby was also reduced to ashes. The families of Bennett and J. L. Mitts and Miss Kate King, who lived in the Bennett home, lost their belongings.

The Baptist church adjoins the Needham block and by valiant effort this edifice was saved, though one side of the roof was damaged.

During his efforts to save part of his office records, W. A. Caldwell, grocer, fell and broke his arm.

The total insurance carried by the places destroyed or damaged by the fire is said to be $30,000.

Chevrolets Lose Slugging Contest But Win Sunday

A hard fought game was lost by the Boone County Chevrolet base ball club of Walton, Saturday when they met defeat at the hands of Bellevue, Ky. Busters by a score of 16 to 18. The Chevrolets were leading by the score of 16 to 6 until the sixth inning when rally started in the last innings by the Bellevue club, made things even up at the finish. In the tenth inning Bellevue scored two runs, putting the game on frigidair.

On Sunday the Ludlow White Sox journeyed to our fair city and after three hours of misery in Walton returned home losers by the score of 12 to 4. In this game the Chevrolets played errorless ball and behind the masterful pitching of Powers things were easy. Powers struck out 12 batters and only allowed 6 hits. Sanders, center fielder for the Chevrolets hit a home run and Dudgeon, first baseman also of the Chevrolets, collected 2 triples and a double in as many times at bat. Mullins handled Powers' slants very nicely also meeting the ball for two hits. The Chevrolets will play Hebron at the Walton park Saturday, July 30th and the Newport Rolling Mill Team of Newport, Ky., Sunday, July 31st also here. The local manager would like to see more fans out to these games than in the past, as they are dreadfully in need of funds.

Literary Club Entertains

In Honor of One of its Ex-Members Mrs. G. J. Grubbs, At Home of Mrs. Alfred Stephens.

Mrs. G. J. Grubbs was the delightful and happy excuse for a one o'clock bridge and rook luncheon given by the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon at the hospitable home of Mrs. A. P. Stephens, on High street. Mrs. Stephens was assisted in dispensing hospitality by Mrs. V. P. Kerns and Mrs. G. P. Nicholson. A delicious luncheon was enjoyed by about twenty-four guests, after which rubbers of bridge whiled away the afternoon.

Mrs. Grubbs, beautifully gowned in a beigeorgette creation, received a royal welcome from club members as her faithfulness and loyalty while a member of the club which had never been forgotten. Here charming daughter, Miss Evelyn, was a delight to the eye in her girlish organdy frock made by her fond mamma, while Miss Bessaline Kerns was a dainty miss in her lovely commencement dress. One more delight of the afternoon was the presence of another faithful club member Mrs. J. L. Reeves, who came over from Frankfort, Ky. Those who so enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Stephens on this auspicious occasion were: Mrs. J. J. Grubbs and daughter, Miss Evelyn Fay, Mrs. V. P. Kerns and daughter Miss Bessaline, Mrs. G. P. Nicholson, Mrs. Jno. L. Vest, Mrs. D. H. Vest, Mrs. B. W. Franks, Mrs. W. O. Rouse, Mrs. E. K. Stephens, Mrs. R. P. Coffman, Mrs. J. C. Bedinger, Mrs. C. W. Ransler, Mrs. C. Scott Chambers, Mrs. John Myers (Verona), Mrs. J. C. Gordon and guest Miss Gordon of Eminence, Ky., Miss Anna Cleek and guest Miss Calhoun of Owensboro, Ky., Miss Graham Roberts, Misses Anne and Mattie Hudson and Miss Alpha Hance.

Miss Emma Jane Miller accompanied her brother Fred Miller and wife in their car to Vincennes, Ind. last week on their return home. Sunday in company of her brother and wife they motored to Flora, Ill. where they visited Mr. Nell Williams-Nancy and husband. Mrs. Nancy was formerly a teacher in Walton Graded and High School.

Sold Frogstool Lunch Room

G. B. Powers Sells Restaurant and Grove to R. H. Hicks, Who Will Enlarge and Improve Same.

Last week G. B. Powers sold the Frogstool Restaurant and grove at the overhauled bridge of the Southern Railroad, just south of Walton to R. H. Hicks of Cincinnati, who with his wife will conduct the business in the future. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess had the place rented but relinquished the business. They stated they did a fine business at the stand.

Mr. Hicks will make extensive improvements to the property and arrange the tourist camp in the grove for the better convenience of the tourists passing this way. He is an expert chef and with excellent cooking anticipates building up a fine business. He will continue to handle soft drinks, sandwiches, ice cream, etc.

Dr. J. P. McCormie, wife and baby of Verona, were visitors to Walton, Friday.

Pretty Hard To Believe That These Are Brothers But Its True

Pictured above is what you might term "the long and short of brotherhood." They're brothers three and though there's little difference in their ages, there's considerable in their height. The two little fellows are Frank (3 ft. 3 ins.), aged 49 years, and Charles (3 ft. 4 ins.), 47 years old. Towering over them is William Alexander, (6 ft. 11 ins.), 43 years old.

LINDBERGH JOINS SELECT COMPANY

Now Member of the "Did It Alone" Club.

Washington.—He did it alone! Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has joined a choice company of solo explorers and adventurers, because "he did it alone."

Dr. David Livingstone, Henry Stanley, Alexander Selkirk (Robinson Crusoe), Capt. Joshua Slocum, Capt. Harry Pidgeon, Lieut. Andrew S. Rowan, John Colter, and Sir Galahad, did it alone.

"Adventurers on their own" have earned the world's best glory wreaths," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society.

David Livingstone sleeps in Westchester, New York, because, traveling by himself, he revealed the geography of the dark heart of Africa. David Livingstone was lost three years in the world when Henry Stanley—alone, except for native carriers—cut through the Congo to reach Livingstone at Ujiji and leave supplies and medical equipment for the missionary explorer.

"The solo adventurer who carried the 'message to Garcia,' like Colonel Lindbergh, wore the American uniform. Albert Hubbard told the story which thrilled and still thrills, how the young officer on the eve of the Spanish American war took the message from President McKinley for the commander of the Cuban insurgents deep in the trackless forest; how he crossed the Cuban navy capture and death as a spy if caught; how he delivered the message to General Garcia which put hope in the hearts of Cubans.

Sailed Around the World. "Difficulty in making a living in New England prompted Capt. Joshua Slocum to embark on an adventure par excellence. Alone he sailed the 'Spray' around the world. Last year Capt. Harry Pidgeon also circumnavigated the world in a still smaller boat.

"The islander," a yawl 34 feet long and 12 feet 6 inches on the beam, he returned to Los Angeles, his home port, after an absence of three years, eleven months and thirteen days. On one leg of his voyage Captain Pidgeon did not see a speck of land, a sail, nor the smoke plume of a steamer for 85 days.

"Courage when it goes alone has ever caught men's imaginations. The early barbs gave Galahad, Beowulf and St. George, the dragon slayer, no weapon bearers or assistants. More is the credit to the traveled Gulliver, to the Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's court, and to the Grim Killer, in the opinions of enthusiastic readers, because they did their deeds without aid. The boy stood on the burning deck and the poet who knew the public's preference for heroes, added, 'whence all but he had fled.'"

"Many lone adventurers have died lonely. This has been true of trail makers in the Middle and Far West. While Daniel Boone and David Thompson, he who mapped by himself the country between Lake Superior and the Pacific coast, made their chief expeditions with helpers, each traveled much alone. John Colter left an estate of $50,000, although he accompanied Lewis and Clark and by himself discovered what is now Yellowstone park. Colter's story shows one of the hazards of traveling alone; no one would believe his descriptions of Yellowstone wonders because he had no partner to confirm them.

"In a cemetery in Shanghai stands a solitary headstone to Frank N. Meyer, plant explorer, who by introducing new plant varieties into the United States, did much to promote American agriculture. Although Meyer had Chinese helpers he pursued constructive adventure without white companions and finally sacrificed his life in a Yangtze river accident.

Alone in China. "Out in China at the present time is Dr. Joseph Rock, who prefers to travel alone. His hazardous journeys to Tibet and Yunnan have yielded among other things, the fruit of the chaulmoogra tree, which has been found to cure leprosy. When Perry discovered the North pole he had the Eskimos with him, but he was the only white man to stand on top of the earth!

"Alexander Selkirk's true story proved so pathetically lonesome that Daniel Defoe found it necessary to give him that fictional companion, Good Man Friday, when he wrote 'Robinson Crusoe.' Selkirk, the real Crusoe, had a misunderstanding with the captain under whom he sailed and asked to be put off on uninhabited Juan Fernandez Island near the Chilean coast. Here British sailors from the 'Duke' found him four years later, scarcely able to talk, surrounded by pet goats, parrots and cats. He was dressed in the skins of goats which he was able to catch by his amazing fleetness. A bronze tablet on the island now marks 'Selkirk's Lookout.'"

"One tramp solo trip, not as long as that from New York to Paris, to be sure, but equally as famous, was made between Boston and Lexington by another hero who traveled alone, Paul Revere."

Styles Move Eastward. "San Francisco.—Shoe styles in California are six months ahead and by the time the modes have reached the Atlantic coast Californians are wearing something else, asserts A. H. Geuting of Philadelphia, president of the National Shoe Retailers' association.

This Was Intended For Parrott Cut

Radio's assortment of entertainers has a new addition. Not a human note but a parrot this time. There he is perched on the familiar "mike" above. And can that bird sing? Well, you just ask any of the fans who tuned in on WMAQ, WBCN and WBBB recently and heard his melodious tunes. They'll tell you he's a wonder!

The Higher the Colder

As we ascend in society, like those who climb a mountain, we shall find that the line of perfect conglomeration commences with the higher circles; and, the nearer we approach to the grand luminary the court, the more frigidity and apathy shall we experience.—Colton.

"Tail" May Precede Comet

The naval observatory says that the tail of a comet is directed away from the sun, and therefore precedes the comet when the latter is receding from the sun. It is called the "tail" on account of its appearance, regardless of whether it follows or precedes the comet.

Chooses Own Reward

Mayfield Woolen Mills, Incorp.

Manufacturers of "Sheep Brand" Pants of Mayfield, Kentucky

Among the many big industries of which Kentucky can well feel proud of is the Mayfield Woolen Mills, the largest plant of its kind in America devoted to the exclusive manufacture of pants. The company was established in Mayfield, Ky. in 1880 and its first modest home consisted of a small building of only 4,868 square feet of floor space. Today its spacious fire-proof plant covers two city blocks, is two stories high and contains 5,152,706 square feet. The plant is steam heated throughout and is electric lighted from its own power plant; it is well ventilated and sanitary. Its machinery is of the latest and most efficient design, which enables them to turn out the best made product in the least possible time. This plant represents an investment of considerably more than two million dollars.

"Sheep Brand" pants, the product of the concern, are sold in every State in the Union. The firm travels thirty-eight salesmen and their yearly sales are in excess of $3,000,000. The company employs over one thousand people, with an annual pay roll of over $1,000,000. The plant, which runs the year round, turns out over 21,000 pairs of pants each week, or over one million pairs a year from over 450,000 pounds of wool, a great portion of which comes from Australia and other foreign countries, in addition to the large domestic supply.

Taking the raw wool as it comes from the sheep's back and converting it into cloth, then into pants and selling direct to the retail merchant, eliminating the middleman's profit, thus giving the consumer the best values.

One of the outstanding features of this company is its welfare work among its employees, many of which form the third generation in its employ. All of the employees are natives of West Kentucky, and the company can well boast of the fact that there is very little turnover in help. The company has never had labor troubles of any sort in 86 years of existence, which attests the loyalty and pride of each and every individual in this magnificent institution.

Too much credit cannot be given to the present officials, M. J. Wright, General Manager, who has been connected with the concern for thirty-five years, along with his brother, H. J. Wright, President and O. T. George, Treasurer, who has given their best efforts in building an institution that reflects credit to our great Commonwealth of Kentucky.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids will be received by the Walton School Board until 7 p. m., Saturday, August 6th, 1927, for the erection of a new auditorium building at Walton, Ky.

Plans and specifications can be secured from the School Board on and after Saturday, July 29th.

The Walton School Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids or parts of bids.

Well Known Man Dies

Fred Stuey, Well Known In Tobacco Circles, Passes Away at His Home in Ghent, Ky.

Fred Stuey, age 75, died at his home in Ghent, Carroll county, Ky. last Wednesday. He was prominent in tobacco circles, being a large speculator for a number of years and was well known on the Louisville and Cincinnati tobacco markets. In the formation of the Burley Tobacco Society years ago, he was sales manager and a member of the executive committee. He was president of the Ghent Deposit Bank and vice president of the Vevey (Ind.) Deposit Bank, a city opposite Ghent.

Mr. Stuey was a Mason and Odd Fellow and was a man who had many friends throughout Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana. He was honest and conscientious and through speculating in tobacco, investing in Texas land at an early day and other business enterprises he amassed considerable money. He is survived by his widow and one daughter Mrs. J. Wood Yager of Lagrange, Ky.

Prof. and Mrs. J. C. Gordon, of South Walton, entertained with a six o'clock dinner Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rouse and daughter Lois of Holden, W. Va. Other guests were Miss Mary Renner and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Doan of Kensington.

Broke Ground For New Bank

Tuesday Morning and Rest of Work Will Be Pushed Rapidly.

Local Contractors Geo. P. Nicholson & Son Have the Contract

Saturday, bids were opened for the building of the Dixie State Bank, by the building committee. Only two bids were made one by the local contractors and another from a contracting firm at Erlanger. The bid of Nicholson and Son was much the lowest and they were awarded the contract.

The excavation work was begun on the lot adjoining the grocery store of E. K. Stephens Tuesday morning and the work will be pushed rapidly. The bank building is to be two story brick with basement in the rear for the furnace room to heat the building. The upper story is to be owned by Attorney Jno. L. Vest, who will fit it up as an elaborate law office for his use.

It is not definitely known how soon the building will be completed or just when the new banking company will be enabled to commence business.

The new building, when completed, will greatly improve the appearance of South Main street as the building will fill up this open space.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the neighbors and relatives for their many deeds of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our beloved mother and wife Parmelia Florence. We also desire to thank Dr. J. J. Marshall for his untiring services. Rev. Edw. C. Boone for his consoling words and Undertaker C. Scott Chambers for the efficient manner in which he conducted the burial. May the richest blessings of the Great Healer of all ills be with them, be the prayers of

HER CHILDREN AND HUSBAND

Big Church Drive

A drive for the purpose of erecting the church building of the Elsmere Church of Christ, will be launched for the congregation by the Rev. H. O. Runyan of Latonia. An open air meeting on the church lot on Carlisle ave., July 31, 1927, at 2 o'clock, to which the public is cordially invited. The drive will cover a period of two or three weeks and subscriptions will be solicited in Elsmere and environs.

All church organizations or individual friends of this congregation anywhere desiring to have a part in this worthy cause will kindly send their contribution to Chas. A. Cody, Building Fund Treasurer, 602 Willow Street, Elsmere, Ky.

Is Tommy Homesick?

Tommy Cook of Walton, has been assigned to duty at the L. and N. Depot at Eminence, Ky. for the past two weeks. Tommy is quite an humorist as can be readily seen by the following which we received from him last week:

"Am having a grand and glorious time here; went fishing yesterday and caught a bad cold. The mosquitoes here are like humming birds, and if you hear one coming the only thing to do is to duck, and if you have a gun close it is a question whether to use it or not as there is a real marshal here. The flies are trained too and they are not satisfied to bite once but range from one to six in the same place before you get a chance to hit at him. The old home town will sure look good to me even if I have only been away two weeks and no telling how much longer."

Two More New Bungalows

William Ransler has just completed a nice four-room bungalow in High School Court sub-division to Walton for Roy Dickerson, our valiant town marshal. Marshal Dickerson will move into his new property Saturday.

L. P. Vallandigham sold a lot on High street to H. S. Johnson and is making preparations to build a nice five-room bungalow for Mr. Johnson.

Under New Management

Miss Elizabeth English has taken temporary charge of the restaurant of Mrs. Fannie Brittenhelm on North Main street, the latter taking a much needed rest. Miss Elizabeth has already established a reputation as an up-to-date restaurateur.

Miss Corinne Chapman of Dry Ridge spent Monday here the guest of Mrs. Ed. McArdle of the Atlas Hotel.

Farmers Picnic

A Wonderful Success In Every Particular. 3,500 Being In Attendance

The Farmers' Picnic, held at the Florence Fair Grounds, Saturday, July 23, was a success even beyond the expectation of all who assisted in the promoting of the picnic. A large crowd gathered in the forenoon to indulge in and enjoy the contests that were held. One of the best arranged picnic lunches that was ever served at a public affair in this county, was prepared and served by the ladies of Boone county.

The afternoon was taken up by addresses made by some of the most prominent speakers of the State who spoke in the interest of the farmer. James C. Stone, president of the Burley Tobacco Association, spoke at length, comparing conditions previous to the present Association to the conditions that now exist since we have had five years of profitable marketing of our chief cash crop.

Mr. Stone cited very clearly the problem that confronted the farmers when they organized, have been removed to a great extent during the operation of the present Association. That the farmers are in a better position to accomplish results now than they had ever been before in the history of the tobacco industry. That the Association had gained a friendly relationship with the manufacturer that had never existed before. That the price realized for tobacco during the life of our Association had been nearer the price received during the five years previous to the Association, which included the wartime prices than any other commodity produced on the farm. Mr. Stone's address was appreciated by the 3500 who attended the picnic as much or more than any address that has ever been made by any one to a crowd of this size in Boone county, as indicated by the expression of the audience following the address and the liberal applause.

P. O. Wilson, manager of the Live Stock Association, made a brief talk on what their association had accomplished at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards during the life of the Association. Mr. Wilson pointed out that the rapid growth of the Association at this point as demonstrated by the amount of dividends that were paid out to the shippers in the year 1926, as compared to the year 1925. This demonstrates the ability of farmers to manage the marketing of their own commodities at a tremendous saving, when handled under efficient management.

Col. J. Sherman Porter, of Lexington, Kentucky, who is one of the most pleasing orators we have had an opportunity to hear, made a short talk giving some illustrations of wise business transactions as compared to competitive and dumping systems of marketing farm products. The illustrations used contained so much humor that Col. Porter received more applause than any other speaker. The people of Boone county are looking forward to the time when we may have the privilege of listening to Col. Porter again.

Miss Verna Elsinger, Director of Community Organization, with the Burley Association, made a short talk on co-operation and rural life, which was very much appreciated by all. It was quite a pleasure to be favored with Miss Elsinger's address as it is seldom we have the privilege of listening to a lady speaker of Nation-wide reputation which has been gained through working to promote better rural life in about sixteen states of the Union.

Unanimous approval was expressed by the crowd for another picnic to be held, and to make the Farmers' picnic an annual affair. An overwhelming majority voted expressing their approval of the management and benefits of our present Burley Association.

The prizes offered in the contests were won by the following persons: Hog Calling contest—John Hays, Buellville, Ky.; Chicken Calling contest—Virgie Sullivan, Burlington, Ky.; Cow Calling contest—J. T. Roberts, Verona, Ky.; Wood Chopping contest—Ed. Snow, Buellville, Ky.; Nail Driving contest—Mrs. Hubert Conner, Hebron, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Holder of Cincinnati were here Tuesday evening visiting his mother, Mrs. Alice Norman.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Kennedy of Latonia and Mr. and Mrs. H. Collier and little daughter of Covington were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks, Sunday.

Elmore Stephens of Atwood, Ky. recently gave a dinner party, the guests being: his sister Mrs. Charles Shink, Mrs. Mattie Montfort, Miss Ocella Campbell, Mrs. George Stephens and daughter Mrs. Clifford Northcutt. Mr. Stephens will have as his guests this week Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens of Toledo, Ill.

HAD CAR WRECKED

Friday evening, as Ed McArdle, a guest at the Atlas Hotel, was driving south on the Dixie Highway, a truck belonging to the Banner Baking Co. of Cincinnati, going toward Covington, crashed into his car, wrecking it and narrowly missed going over a steep embankment. The truck was also damaged. Mr. McArdle states the truck swerved right into his car. The driver claimed his machine was "shimmying" and got beyond his control. The damaged machines were left at a nearby garage. Mr. McArdle is quite angry over the accident and threatens to sue the Banner Baking Company.

It is a notable fact that a great many of these trucks—more especially bread trucks, run at a high rate of speed on the highway and only recently the town marshal gave one of the drivers a severe lecture for driving at a high speed, which he claims was 45 miles an hour.

It would be advisable for the proper authorities to make examples of these speeders before a serious accident occurs.

HAPPY HILLS BOONE COUNTY

C. M. Gullion was a business visitor to Glencoe, Tuesday.

Oba Calvert of English spent Sunday here the guest of relatives.

Esper Rose, wife and children of Hester, motored over and spent Sunday here the guests of her grand parents Albert Crouch and wife.

When Mrs. A. J. Lee, wife of Rev. Lee of Popular Grove was informed that a little granddaughter had arrived at the home of Lou Harrison and wife, named Edie Lee, she presented it with a check for $1,000.00.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rouse of North Main street entertained last Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Grubbs and daughter Miss Evelyn Fay of Miami, Fla. Among the other guests were Mrs. R. C. Coffman and bright little daughter Rose Evelyn and Miss Elizabeth English.

Ed. McArdle left Saturday morning for Miami, Fla. where he anticipates spending a couple of weeks fishing and taking a much needed rest. He and his wife are guests at the Hotel Atlas.

Webb Smith, a former student of Walton, but now resides in Covington was here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rouse and daughter Lois of Holden, W. Va., who had been here on a two weeks visit to relatives, left Saturday morning in their automobile for their home. Miss Mary Renner of Kensington, sister of Mrs. Rouse, accompanied them home for a visit.

Miss Georgia Rouse arrived home here last Thursday from a short visit to her mother Mrs. Julia A. Rouse, who is taking a special course in studies at the State Normal School at Richmond, Ky.

Lunsford Here Tuesday

John L. Lunsford, Democratic Candidate for Commonwealth Attorney of Kenton county, who is one of Covington's prominent lawyers, was here on business Tuesday. Mr. Lunsford is credited with being one of the upright citizens of Covington and has a large number of admiring friends who anticipate he will receive the Demog. See his ad. in this issue of the Advertiser.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. St. Clair, Mrs. Iva Funk and son, R. E. Brugh, and S. C. B. St. Clair, who were guests at the Phoenix Hotel, left Wednesday for Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair will visit Roanoke, Va., expecting to return here August 12th. The others will spend the summer months in different points in Virginia. All are connected with the Walton Canning Company owned by R. B. St. Clair.

Mrs. John Myers of Verona was here Tuesday attending the Woman's Club luncheon.

Mrs. Ed. McArdle left Tuesday for Dry Ridge where she will be a guest at the Avon-Moore Hotel for about two weeks when she expects Mr. McArdle home from Miami, Fla.

H. R. Dixon left Monday morning for Virginia to spend a few weeks with relatives.

Something New In Lingerie

The woman who thrills to the thought of wearing black lace underwear, should harken to the newest net concerning it. It is—
Flesh satin beneath the black lace and rows of net ruffles are necessary to form the truly chic bit of dainty lingerie.
The model above, a well known screen star, displays a creation of black chiffon fluff which she purchased while in Paris recently.
How do you like it?

Hon. O. P. Hogan

O. P. Hogan, of Grant County, announces as a candidate for Representative from Boone and Grant counties.
About 20 years ago he served a term each in the Lower and Upper Houses of the General Assembly. While doing so he was the author and had enacted into laws the Free Turnpike, Pensions for Confederate Soldiers, Medical Statistics, Division Fence Law and the Tobacco Bill, etc. He assisted in the organization of the old Burley Tobacco Society and refused to accept pay for his services. He was author of the bill making 8 hours constitute a days labor. He would exempt taxes on unpaid for farms, and reduce taxes on all farm land.
He has always supported Boone county candidates, Rouse, Lassing, Gaines, Johnson and patronized its fairs and institutions.
He has always been an advocate for the vote for women and hope they will return the favor.
He has always been an advocate of good roads, schools and churches.
If Mr. Hogan is nominated in the Democratic Primary on August 6th, he will be a candidate for Speaker of the House, a position for which he is well qualified.—Grant County News.

PURE TIN YIELDED BY GOLD HILL MINE

Cregon's "Mystery White Metal" Is Identified.

Portland, Ore.—Pure tin is being extracted from the rocks near Gold Hill. In the Rogue River valley that the white metal is tin has been attested by assayers in San Francisco. Heaver and oil-r pits.

"We have demonstrated that we have tin. We have the mine from which the tin came. We have put all our resources into the development to date. Now we want to know whether Portland wants to develop a new industry or whether we must look elsewhere."

Such is the statement made by E. P. Logan and E. S. Eskrine, ex-residents of Bend, who are in the city to submit their discovery to the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

Have No Doubts.

Much has been written about the "mystery white metal" around Grants Pass. Some maintain it is tin and others express doubts. There is no doubt in the minds of Messrs Logan and Eskrine, for they have the concrete evidence and the scientific reports. The claims represent the group of men owning the Golden Cross mine, which is three miles out in Sam's valley, north of Gold Hill, and more specifically located on Payne's gulch through which runs Payne's creek, emptying into Rogue River.

Mr. D. Jackson, prospector, now seventy-six, discovered the mine, having been grubstaked by Logan, then employed building a logging railroad for one of the big sawmill companies of Bend.

"For seven years we worked it as a gold mine," said Mr. Logan. "We figured we had a large body of ore. The vein is 35 feet wide 3,000 feet long, and we don't know how deep. Two years ago Glen Spurlin, who had worked in Australia and was familiar with tin, came to us. He told us that our rock contained tin, and we thought he was kidding. He rigged up a furnace and proved it by recovering buttons which were tested and found to be tin.

All Showed Tin.

"In two years these tin buttons have been carried away by many people and whenever they have been tested they showed tin. We have built a laboratory and complete equipment. We do not cook tin in kitchen stoves or blacksmith forges, but in a regular assayer's furnace. It is done in the approved scientific method. We have produced between fifty and sixty pounds of tin. Some of the bars, which we have refined, show analysis of 98 per cent pure tin. Not one, but several assayers have given certificates to that effect. The ore will average 6 per cent tin.

"The ore in our mine is different from other rock from which buttons of metal said to be tin have been extracted.

"There is no question whatever as to the identity of our metal. It is tin. We have proved that and are willing to prove it to any one. We would appreciate if the Chamber of Commerce of Portland or the State Chamber of Commerce would come or send representatives to our property and at first hand inform themselves as to the possibilities of developing it."

Convict Costs England Thirty Pounds Yearly

London.—Prisoners in British prisons are mostly under sentence either of hard labor or penal servitude. They work, on an average, seven hours a day. They make mats, mailbags, trawlers, mops, shoes. They are carpenters, stonemasons, bricklayers, painters, glumbers and so on on.
Yet the value of their yearly work is low, varying in different prisons from £14 yearly a person up to a maximum of about £24. The average is somewhere about £17, a sum which does not even cover the cost of a prisoner's food. So the unfortunate taxpayer has to shell out rather more than £30 a year for each of the thousands of inmates of English local and convict prisons.

Sixty years ago many of the prisoners were self-supporting. The big prison at Wakefield used to make a handsome profit out of its mats. The average number of prisoners was 600 and the profits ran to between £6,000 and £7,000 a year.

In those days the cloth for prison uniforms was woven in prison, stock tings were knitted, furniture was made, and all sorts of trades carried on. Nowadays the prisons make nothing that cannot be used by the post office, admiralty, or other government departments.

Geese Quill Thrives Among Paris Writers

The typewriter today is generally accepted by American authors as the quickest and most satisfactory method of setting their thoughts on paper. But in France, where art is still spelled with a capital letter, much of the literary output is from quill pens. The goose quill is a standard article at stationery stores.

The importance of quills came to light recently when a newspaper conducted a campaign among writers to discover whether they were music lovers. Many of the literary people asserted that to their ears the sweetest music was the squeaking of their quill pens.

SHANKS, BUSINESS MAN, REVIEWS RECORD

Debt Reduced, Teachers Paid on Day Salaries Become Due, Schools are Built, Many Miles of Road Added, State Can Always Tell Where It Stands Financially

W. H. Shanks, until recently a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, said in an interview with Robert T. Crowe, editor of the Nicholasville Post-Courier, that he is for Crowe because Crowe will not repudiate the record of a Democratic administration but will carry forward its good work.

He presented the following as the accomplishments of the Democratic administration which has served the people four years:

When the present Democratic administration took office, it inherited a state debt of approximately $5,000,000. The records were in such condition that the exact amount is in doubt.

If available funds in the state treasury were now applied to the state debt, only $1,600,000 would be owed.

In addition to reducing the state debt by this amount, obligations of $1,000,000 incurred by the old state aid law of 1914 have been fulfilled.

A total of 1,100 miles of highways has been constructed.

The state highway department, which on taking office had outstanding against it an inherited debt of approximately $3,500,000, now has a balance of approximately $1,400,000 in the road fund.

The present administration has done more for education than any previous administration. Two new white normal schools and a colored normal school have been constructed.

Teachers now receive checks for their salaries on the day they are due instead of warrants that had to be discounted or held until money to retire them was available.

The real estate tax has been reduced from 40 cents to 30 cents. Through an efficient accounting system, any citizen may ascertain within fifteen minutes after the books close each day the exact financial condition of the commonwealth.

State warrants which were selling at a discount before the Democratic administration took office are now selling at a premium and banks and individual investors desire them so that the demand is in excess of the supply.

The financial condition of Kentucky is excelled by not more than half a dozen states in the union.

Kentucky is just ready to go forward if the present constructive policies are carried forward. Certainly the Democratic party should not repudiate a Democratic administration of which all Kentuckians should be proud, but should endorse this splendid record.

Filling the Long-Felt Want

Denn Palmer, who is associated with his father, the famous Charlie Palmer, in the business of buying and selling newspapers, says he had a friend who made a trip once to a state lunatic asylum in Minnesota.

While strolling about the grounds he happened upon an old man of a benign aspect sitting under a tree. "Good evening," said the venerable gentleman. "A stranger here, I assume?"

"Yes," said Palmer's friend, "I am. I take it that you, too, are a visitor." "Unfortunately," said the old gentleman, "I am an inmate." "But—pardon me—but you don't look like—" began the astonished stranger.

"I'm not, either," said the old gentleman. "My son, I am the victim of circumstances. Members of my family coveted my property. On trumped up charges they had me declared of unsound mind, and I was railroaded off from my home and brought to this place where I have ever since lived in confinement. And yet, if only the truth were known, I am engaged in a great scientific literary work—an undertaking which has busied me for years and which, if justice is ever done, will some day make my name famous throughout the English-speaking world."

"And what, may I ask, is this work?"

"I am engaged," said the old gentleman, "in compiling a complete index to The Unabridged Dictionary."

DROP IN SARDINES AFFECTS BRITANNY

Fishermen and Cannery Workers Stirred Up.

Washington.—What price sardines? In France just now this is more than a question of gustatory interest. The price of the little fishes has fallen so low that the discouraged fishermen and cannery workers of Brittany, the world's chief source of sardines, are threatening Bolshevism, and have even elected "commissars of the people," according to press dispatches. Brittany and its leading industry are the subjects of the following bulletin from Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"For more reasons than one Brittany might be called 'the Ireland of France,'" says the bulletin. "The Bretons are Celts, cousins of the Irish. They have the same interest in things of the spirit, and the same tendency, on occasion, to emotional outbursts. For centuries, too, they had the same antagonism toward outside rule that so long animated the Irish. For 1,500 years they fought successfully against Roman, Norm, English and French for the independence of Brittany. They managed to keep a parliament of their own until the French revolution."

Has France's Best Harbors.

"Today Brittany has no political existence, and is not even represented on many maps. It occupies the spout of the French tongue, the westernmost peninsula of France, the northern mouth of the English channel. This land, about the size of Maryland, was formerly Armorica, but got its present name during the Fifth and Sixth centuries because of the heavy immigration of Britons, driven from across the channel by the Angles and Saxons. It is a rough country, covered with rocks and hills and semimountains. Its coast line is deeply indented, and has the best harbors in France. This fact and the existence of large numbers of fish offshore, turned the eyes of the Bretons seaward. They are France's greatest fisherman and her chief reliance as material for her navy and merchant marine."

"Many sorts of fish and sea food are taken in Brittany waters, but by far the leading product is the sardine. 'Britanny's sardine industry began to develop in 1845 when the first cannery was built. This was not long after the preservation of food products had been placed on a sound basis. Now there are more than 200 canneries in the region. The sardine fishermen number 30,000 or more, and women, are engaged in the packing industry."

"The prosperity of Brittany hinges on the little fish, and it is fickle in its favors. Some years there will be practically none in the offshore waters, and as many as four poor years have followed one another. When this happens there is real suffering; at times 80,000 people have been practically on the verge of starvation, and the French government has had to lend a hand."

"The sardines are taken in nets in the meshes of which they are caught by their gills. It is necessary, however, to use large quantities of bait, salted cod eggs. When a school of sardines appears near a fishing boat, bait is thrown beyond the dangle net, and the little fishes rushing for the falling food, are snared in the meshes. The net is then lifted aboard and the fish gently shaken out. The fishing takes place near shore and often the fish are in the canneries within an hour or so after they are taken from the water."

"The fishermen sell by the thousand, according to size, the larger fish bringing the best price. Prices range from one dollar to five per thousand according to conditions. The cannery workers go through a complicated procedure. They clean and behead the little fishes, soak them in brine, dry them in wire baskets, immerse the baskets of fishes in boiling oil, pack the sardines in tin boxes, pour in oil, seal the boxes, and finally boil them in huge cauldrons of water for two hours. The boxes are then labeled and are ready for market."

Prehistoric Monuments.

"Inland Brittany is an agricultural country, but much of the land is infertile. There are numerous wild moorlands. On these are some of the most interesting prehistoric remains found in Europe, the rough stone monuments of the early Celts. Huge stones have been stood on end. These are known as 'menhirs.' When they have been placed in circles or arcs (as in the British Stonehenge made also by Celts) at about the same time they are called 'cromlechs.' When the great upright stones support horizontal ones they are 'dolmens.' The most striking of these monuments are the alignments of menhirs."

"The early Celts are supposed to have erected the stones in connection with their religious rites, and apparently the great Carnac alignment was a sort of Mecca and a holy burial place. Keystones in the cromlechs were oriented with regard to certain seasonal positions of the sun. This famous throughout the English-speaking world."

"And what, may I ask, is this work?"

"I am engaged," said the old gentleman, "in compiling a complete index to The Unabridged Dictionary."

MRS. FANNIE MCANNA

Mrs. Fannie McAnna, age 89, died at her home, on Mud Lick hills, this county, Tuesday, from bronchial pneumonia. She had been ill for about a month. She was the grandmother of Russell Sparks, with whom she lived. She was a widow and is survived by five grandsons and one granddaughter. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church. Her funeral took place from the Lebanon Presbyterian Rev. Speers, pastor of the Richmond Presbyterian church, preaching an appropriate funeral discourse after which the remains were consigned to the grave in the church cemetery. Undertaker C. Scott Chambers had charge of the funeral arrangements.

BECKHAM CHANGES, SAYS VINSON

Candidate Favored Law Which Makes Pari-Mutuel Restrictions Effective. Served as Attorney Before Court of Appeals and Contended that the Pari-Mutuel Statute was Valid.

Congressman Fred M. Vinson declared recently in introducing Robert T. Crowe in Louisa that J. C. W. Beckham was responsible for the introduction of the pari-mutuel system of betting on the race tracks of Kentucky and the creation of the Kentucky Jockey Club, both of which he now denounces.

"It is true the law authorizing the pari-mutuel system of betting was enacted before Beckham became governor," Mr. Vinson said, "but it was not until 1906, when he was governor, that the system was actually installed and placed under supervision of the state racing commission. This commission was created by the enactment of a law advocated by Beckham and it was the first section of that law that authorized the formation of a corporation to control legalized gambling on the race tracks of the state."

He charged that had it not been for that law, and especially the first section thereof, the Kentucky Jockey Club, now being denounced by Beckham and his newspaper supporters, would not now be in existence. He further showed by records of the court of appeals that Beckham, after he had retired as chief executive of the state, appeared in court as attorney to defend the constitutionality of the pari-mutuel system of betting.

It was on December 10, 1917, that Beckham appeared as attorney in the court of appeals and successfully defended the pari-mutuel law, as the appellate court held the law constitutional and reversed the Kenton circuit court, which had held the law invalid, according to the court decision cited by Mr. Vinson. As an attorney working for a fee, Beckham went into a court of law and defended the very system he now says, as a candidate for governor, is indefensible in the moral and in law, Representative Vinson declared.
